

"LOOKING 'EM OVER"

With Mike Callos Jr.

Chatting With Koufax

He came to the majors with no minor league experience—direct to the Dodgers. A rarity in any age.

During a mid-season game in 1959 Sandy Koufax fanned 18 fearsome Giants to equal the record held by the almost legendary Bob Feller.

Last week the Dodgers lefthander came close. He struck out 15 Phillies only to lose because of weak hitting mates.

The following morning he graciously came to Torrance to participate in the Baseball Day Parade honoring the city's 3000 Little, Babe Ruth, and Pony Leaguers. And this with only a few hours rest. He had committed himself to George Vico and this reporter earlier in the week. He could have called it off and most every true baseball fan would have understood. He got here, however, and thousands of youngsters and grown-ups went home and told friends that they had seen the fabulous Koufax and in some instances waving an autographed baseball.

Still Single

Sandy, don't you feel kinda disappointed in your teammates? They didn't get but two hits.

The boys tried that I know. But try and look at the situation another way. How do you think they feel if a pitcher goes in there and allows numerous base hits and can't get a man out? You don't find too many games where the pitching and hitting is good. If you did you'd clinch the pennant early.

How bad does your arm feel after pitching a nine inning game?

It feels fine until I start throwing again. How soon do you do that?

The next day. Then it feels stiff and sore. Where in the city do you live?

In Hollywood.

Your 24 now and still single. You like being a bachelor?

Not exactly. I just haven't met the right girl as yet. I don't plan going through life like this. But right now I'm concentrating on baseball and pitching.

How many other Dodgers "enjoy" being a bachelor?

There's Johnny Podres, Chuck Essigian, Don Demeter and some others. John and Chuck are both older than I and they still haven't found the Mrs.

Rather Win

It must be some sort of extra satisfaction to whiff many batters?

No doubt. But primarily I go out there to win. I don't especially try and mow the batters down. After all I've got the best infielders and outfielders in the league behind me.

I've often notice that you perspire quickly when you pitch. Is it because you use so much energy?

No, not really. I've always been one to work up a sweat regardless. It must be glandular. Cause I'm not toiling that hard.

Think you'll be able to take your regular turn now?

I don't see why not.

The Dodger parade car moved into view and Sandy promised to continue the interview at some later date at the Coliseum.

I've got that feeling that Sandy will fan 20 in one game before the season is over and establish himself as the record holder. He's young, durable and clean-cut. Like rolling a natural everytime.

Henry Heads Sports Races

Two new faces will be looking for their first win of the season. In the Modified-Sportsman car races at the New Acot Stadium, Saturday night in the ten event racing program.

Hank Henry, from Tucson, Arizona, and Bob Hogle, Buena Park are rated as the top threats to break the winners circle for the first time. Henry holds the one and three lap track records at the S. Vermont Stadium, in his super-charged Corvette powered racer. Hogle currently fifth in point standings has been knocking at the winners circle every week in a Cadillac powered machine.

Tordondo LL Opens Season

The Tordondo Little League will open its season Saturday with ceremonies at their new field located in North Torrance at the Entradero Sump.

Pat Hogue, Torrance baseball Commissioner, will officiate during the opening day festivities.

Rev. Paul Cox from St. Andrews Presbyterian Church and Father McKenna of the St. James Catholic Church will lead the groups in prayer.

A parade will be a feature of the opening day ceremonies and immediately after all the teams in the League will play two innings of baseball.

Neptune Days Drawing Set for June 26

Three visitors to the 1960 Neptune Days Marinarama Over-The-Water Marine Show will sail home according to Redondo Beach Chamber of Commerce Neptune Days Chairman, Neal Howard.

Tickets purchased from the South Bay District of Boy Scouts or a favorite participating merchant will be good for an Over-The-Water Marine Show drawing June 26. Prizes will be a completely rigged sailing dinghy and two rowing dinghies complete with oars.

The area Boy Scouts will assume the pre-Neptune Days ticket sales "as a good turn" and will begin distribution the first week in May. Both the 50 cent adult ticket and the 25 cent children (under twelve ticket) will entitle the purchaser admission to the Marine Show on Horse-shoe Pier.
